

CHRIS HAMBUCH-BOYLE

Chris Hambuch-Boyle retired from the ECASD in 2012 after 33 years, spending her entire teaching career at the preschool level.

Presently Chris works as an early childhood consultant with both CESA 10 and 11 in western and central Wisconsin.

Chris attended undergraduate and graduate school at UW-Eau Claire. She has a BA in Communicative Disorders and an MS in Speech/Language Pathology. Chris also obtained her Early Childhood Special Education license and achieved National Board Certification in Exceptional Needs Specialist Early Childhood through Young Adulthood in 2002. Chris helped start the 4 year old kindergarten program that is now EC4T and worked to expand educational options for little ones with disabilities.

Chris and her husband, Steve have lived in Eau Claire since 1971. Their daughters, Caitlin and Molly went to Manz Elementary, DeLong Middle School and North High School. Chris (and Steve) grew up in Ashland, WI and called the Apostle Islands her family playground. She still enjoys reading Lake Superior history and sitting on the beach in Cornucopia, WI.

As an early childhood teacher, Chris made consistent home visits connecting with families at every opportunity. She would like to continue that strong community connection as a Board member.
