CVTC and local high schools have partnered to offer high school students who are interested in pursuing a career in healthcare an opportunity to earn high school and college credit. High school academies give students a chance to navigate their interests and career options to develop the most successful individualized career path. Credits earned through this academy may be applied to CVTC's technical degree programs and transfer to other universities.

Students will have the opportunity to earn a Certified Nursing Assistant, CNA (30-543-1), Technical Diploma and 10 credits of health related coursework. The healthcare academy will give students the opportunity to complete required courses that are prerequisites to apply to various healthcare program wait lists at CVTC.

"My plan right now is to major in nuclear medicine tech. I have always liked science and this was just a great opportunity to get your foot in the door and get started on a collegiate level science program, especially Anatomy and Physiology"

- MICAH, HIGH SCHOOL ACADEMY STUDENT
