Good Morning, Manz Third Grade Families,

Just a reminder that the new At Home Learning checklist for the week will be posted on the Manz website this morning. Please make sure to take the time to go over the new checklist with your child. This week's Waggle assignments in reading and math are individualized based on the information we received from your child's summative reading and math tests. The assignments will vary in length, depending on the focused skill and the amount of reteaching done in the assignment. We have posted these assignments with extended due dates. We recommend working in Waggle for 20-minute chunks of time, so an assignment may take more than one week to complete. We will be adding new assignments as your child needs them. Please continue to reach out to us if something needs clarification or your child needs support to complete an assignment.

Remember, this week is our Virtual Spirit Week with the theme "Kindness Rocks". Feel free to share pictures with your teacher!

Monday:

Kindness rocks-dress like a Rockstar and paint rocks with kind messages to place around town and delight your neighbors

Tuesday:

Dress like a current superhero and write a kind message or draw a picture to give to one (nurse, doctor, delivery drivers, farmers, grocery store workers)

Wednesday:

Stay strong and healthy while at home-dress in workout clothes and do a workout or make a healthy snack

Thursday:

Literacy day-read a book to someone in your house or over the phone to a relative like a grandparent or a friend, or even to one of your stuffed animals or toys!

Friday:

We are all in this together day-wear every color of the rainbow and make beautiful rainbows and hearts out of anything you have. Hang them in your windows to let neighbors know we are all in it together. Or, draw/write inspiring messages on your driveways or sidewalk with chalk
