The purpose of the Recycling Club is to encourage students and staff to recycle to reduce pollution and conserve our natural resources. We recycle on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Lauren Davis

SAFE (formerly SADD) Students Advocating For Excellence

This is student-run group focused on peer-to-peer education. SAFE can be an open space for students to talk to their peers about topics like alcohol, tobacco, substance misuse, mental health, healthy relationships, driving, and more. Activities and activism related to these issues may include the Mock car crash, mental health cards, learning from and meeting with students from other schools, and volunteer activities. If you are interested in Joining SAFE, reach out to your peers or Ms. Trautlein.

Jackie Trautlein

Ski and Snowboard Club

Are you looking for something to do this December through March? Do you enjoy the fresh air and being outdoors? If so, then join the Memorial Ski and Snowboard Club! Whether you are just starting out on the bunny hill or you are an experienced black diamond pro, Memorial Ski and Snowboard Club is designed for all abilities! Come hang out with friends on the slopes and develop a recreational you can use for many years to come! Talk to Mr. Stutzman if interested.

Jed Stutzman

Skills USA (VICA)

Students in VICA compete twice a year focusing on leadership activities and skill development. VICA also integrates job interviews, speeches, and extemporaneous speaking. Some of the skills developed by members are in the fields of electronics, drafting, engineering, photography, small engines, computer networking, and other life-skill fields.

Lisa Crotty-Nelson

Spanish Club

Spanish Club is open to all students in Spanish classes. Students organize activities to enhance their Spanish language skills and engage in the Hispanic culture. Opportunities are available to host students from Spanish speaking countries. Also a student trip is offered bi-annually for students enrolled in upper level Spanish courses who wish to experience the Spanish language and culture first-hand.

Jeff Hansen

Special Olympics

Through year-round sports training and athletic competition, Special Olympics builds self-esteem, fosters courage, and teaches valuable lessons about striving, winning, losing, and trying again. Athletes with cognitive disabilities, age eight to eighty, participate in Olympic-type sports. The athletes are given the continuing opportunity to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, and experience joy. Here, they find a place of acceptance, friendship, respect, and belonging. ECASD Special Olympics athletes have the opportunity to participate in bowling, basketball, track, and swimming.

Stephanie Travis

Student Council

Student Council (STUCO) is the student government at Memorial. Members of Student Council are elected by their classmates each year. STUCO represents students' interests in regular meetings with administration to address student concerns, issue grants to students, teachers, and clubs, and organize activities to promote school spirit. We also host many different events throughout the year to either help the school or community (such as Club Rush and the spring American Red Cross Blood Drive) or to raise funds to help support our grant program (such as Winter Formal, Kickball Tournament, Spring Talent show, etc.). If you've got suggestions, questions, concerns or comments on how to make MHS even better or what concerns you have, we want to know! Contact one of your representatives or find us on Facebook (Eau Claire Memorial Student Council) or on Twitter (@ecmhsstuco)!

Kathy Campbell de Loyo & Christina Schroeder

SLAB – Student Library Advisory Board

SLAB meets every other week during ELT/ABE time. They plan library events and advise Mrs. Wojahn on student needs, preferences, and purchases for the library. All students welcome! Your voice is needed.

Becky Wojahn

Theatre Performances

Theatre productions happen each Fall and Spring. Every other year, the production is a school musical (see separate webpage). Students are also able to perform in the annual Fine Arts night held each May. Casting for all is by audition, and all rehearsals and technical work sessions are after school and on weekends. Students can learn more about how to get involved in the theatre season each year by checking the Theatre bulletin board outside the Little Theatre, being in theatre classes at Memorial, or stopping by Ms. Dernbach's classroom 1288. There are lots of creative jobs behind the scenes. Students are a crucial component in making props, costumes, constructing and painting sets, running sound and light systems, and creating promotional materials. Participating in MHS Theatre gives students an opportunity to engage in leadership, work collaboratively, and hone communication skills both on and off stage.

Amber Dernbach

Youth in Government

YMCA/ Jack Schaefer

Leaders are developed by doing, and the Wisconsin YMCA Youth in Government (YIG) program seeks to foster the next generation of thoughtful, committed, and active citizens. The program aims to enable young people to prepare for leadership through participatory training in the theory and practice of determining public policy.

There are two ways to learn about government:

The first is to read textbooks about what others have done.

The second is to take that theoretical knowledge and apply it in an actual government setting.

The Wisconsin YMCA Youth in Government program provides middle and high school students with a unique opportunity to learn how to be civically engaged by acting as state legislators, lawyers, and members of the Press Corps. The students simulate all phases and positions of the actual state government and are challenged with many of the same issues our real legislators must face in their elected offices.
