REPORT CARD INFORMATION

The end of our first semester will be on January 19th and your child will be bringing home their report card on January 29th. Please keep in mind that this is a snapshot of your child's achievement this school year. Your child's report card reflects their progress towards the end of the year academic expectations. Benchmarks are used to describe what your child should be able to do at the end of this school year. These benchmarks are reported twice during the year to reflect academic growth. This is not a comparison with other students in the class, and the numbers 1, 2, 3, and 4 do not correspond with letter grades like A, B, C, or D.

Read through the marking key located on the report card. This marking key describes what the marks stand for. Typically, a child would progress from "1" to "2" to "3." Our goal is for students to end their year Meeting End of Year Standards (3 on the marking key). At times, children may receive a "4," which means they are performing beyond end-of-year expectations. An "*" means there is not enough evidence currently to give a number.

All students will also be marked for Behaviors of Lifelong Learners. This is a very important area for you to review as it provides information about your child's behavior, work ethic, and classroom cooperation.

Often families ask what to do with the information on their child's report card. Here are a few suggestions:

- Acknowledge children for the improvements they have made or for the hard work they have been putting into learning. It is very important for students to understand that their level of effort in school directly affects their progress towards meeting academic standards. Praise their effort and hard work rather than saying things like, "you are so smart" or "school is so easy for you." Share comments like, "I can tell you have been working really hard in reading" or "I know you sometimes get frustrated in math class, but I am proud of you for not giving up and asking questions when you need help." Specific praise is most beneficial to children.

- If your child is having difficulty in a specific area, talk with the teacher about ways you can support your child at home without it feeling like "extra work." And, again, focus on their effort in class rather than their "grade."
- If your child is excelling, encourage him or her to continue to work hard.
- The Behaviors of Lifelong Learners are just as important (and sometimes more important) as academic content knowledge. Students who work well with others, contribute to their classroom community, produce quality work, and think critically about their own learning will be successful after high school. Colleges and employers are often looking for those specific traits.
- And remember, while every child has areas in need of improvement, it's just as important to celebrate successes! As you discuss the report card with your child, celebrate any steps forward.

If you have specific questions about your child's report card, you can always reach out to their teacher. Thank you for supporting your child throughout their academic journey!

Mr. Semingson, Asst. Principal

SAVE THE DATE

Our Sweets & Treats Arts Show will be held on Thursday, March 7th from 5:00 pm until 7:30 pm at Robbins! We will be showcasing our talented artists and musicians – it's always a great time!

INDOOR VS. OUTDOOR RECESS

District policy requires us to keep students indoors for recess if the actual air temperature is below zero or if the wind chill is below -10. All other times, students will be outdoors for recess. Please send your child to school with appropriate clothes for the weather. Warm winter coats, snow pants, hats, boots, and mittens are essential.

Reminder for restricted physical activity:

If a child must stay inside from recess, families are required to send a note from a health care provider detailing the period of time of restricted activity for medical reasons.

If you have any questions about these guidelines, please contact your child's school nurse for further direction.

SCHOOL NURSE UPDATE

Whether winter brings severe storms, light dustings or just cold temperatures, the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) has some valuable tips on how to keep your children safe and warm.

What to Wear

- Dress infants and children warmly for outdoor activities. Several thin layers will keep them dry and warm. Don't forget warm boots, gloves or mittens, and a hat.
- The rule of thumb for older babies and young children is to dress them in one more layer of clothing than an adult would wear in the same conditions.

Winter Health

- If your child suffers from winter nosebleeds, try using a cold air humidifier in the child's room at night. Saline nose drops or petroleum may help keep nasal tissues moist. If bleeding is severe or recurrent, consult your pediatrician.
- Cold weather does not cause colds or flu. But the viruses that cause colds and flu tend to be more common in the winter, when children are in school and are in closer contact with each other. Frequent hand washing and teaching your child to sneeze or cough into the bend of her elbow may help reduce the spread of colds and flu.
- Children 6 months of age and up should get the influenza vaccine to reduce their risk of catching the flu.

Winter Sports and Activities

- Set reasonable time limits on outdoor play to prevent hypothermia and frostbite. Have children come inside periodically to warm up.
- Using alcohol or drugs before any winter activity, like snowmobiling or skiing, is dangerous and should not be permitted in any situation.

JANUARY IS MENTAL WELLNESS MONTH

Mental wellness is about how all aspects of your life—the social, emotional, physical, spiritual, and intellectual--all come together for an overall state of well-being. Mental health and wellness help determine how we act, feel, and think, and affect our ability to handle stress, connect to others, and make decisions.

Even if you've neglected your mental wellness in the past, it's never too late to make improvements. Mental Wellness Month is designed as a time for you to become more mentally resilient. You can learn to better handle stressful situations and negative circumstances that often occur as a part of life.

Here are a few things to try:

- stay active
- spend quality time with friends and family
- take a break when you need one
- learn stress management techniques
- eat healthy foods
- get enough rest
- engage in physical activity
